Type of support	University Support		Funded Support	Placement support
How to access it	Disability Services 1. Complete and submit disability services online Sign Up Form. 2. Send evidence of disability to disability@leeds.ac.uk	Academic school For disability-related queries, e.g., accessing teaching and learning adjustments, contact the disability contact in your academic school.	Taught UK students - Disabled Students Allowances (DSA) Apply via funding body – complete application form and send evidence. International and PGR Students– contact Disability Co-ordinator disability@leeds.ac.uk	To access adjustments on placement, contact your placement provider and/or the placement team in your academic school to discuss and agree what support can be offered.
What it provides	Make recommendations for: 1. University exam arrangements, for example, • extra time • rest breaks • Seating requests • Timetabling requests 2. Teaching and learning adjustments, for example: • submission flexibility (e.g., extension requests) • permission to record lectures • lecture materials in advance • Group work adjustments • Oral presentation adjustments 3. Placements - Add PL code to support summary sheet to indicate that you may need support on placements.	Implement recommendations made for teaching and learning adjustments and exam access arrangements for in-class tests/assessments recommended by Disability Services. Manage process of mitigating circumstances, including extension requests and additional consideration. Support students to consider what reasonable adjustments they want to request on placement.	Examples of funded support, depending on impact of disability: • One-to-one study skills tutor • One-to-one specialist mentor • Assistive technology software • Laptop (£200 student contribution) • Ergonomic equipment • Taxi allowance • Printing, ink & paper allowance	Placement providers implement support on placements. This varies according to the placement setting. Reasonable adjustments on placement are not automatically implemented. Students need to discuss these with placement providers. If you require support with this, contact the placement team in your academic school. Exam arrangements and teaching and learning adjustments recommended by Disability Services do not apply on placements.